People are living longer in the United States. As a result, more and more middle aged adults are becoming caretakers of their aging parents. When their parents can no longer care for themselves, these adults stay at home to care for them in much the same way they cared for their own children. Playing the role of "parent sitter" is quite difficult and frustrating. For example, an aging parent may become blind. No longer able to see, the old person needs his or her children to perform many every day jobs. Another example is the parent who becomes brain damaged during the aging process. Natural roles are then reversed, as children are forced to care for their parents as if their parents were children.

The underlined words middle aged can be replaced by

- a. very young people.
- b. ancient people.
- c. very old people.
- d. people in their 50's.

According to the text, the underlined words "parent sitter" refer to a person who

- a. takes care of his/her father or mother.
- b. loves and works for his/her family.
- c. looks after his/her children.
- d. likes helping his/her relatives.

The main idea of this text is:

- a. Sons and daughters take care of their parents because of longevity.
- b. Children do not like to take care of their parents.
- c. The natural roles of parents and children have changed throughout history.
- d. Parents stay at home to take care of their children.
